Press Kit

Introduction

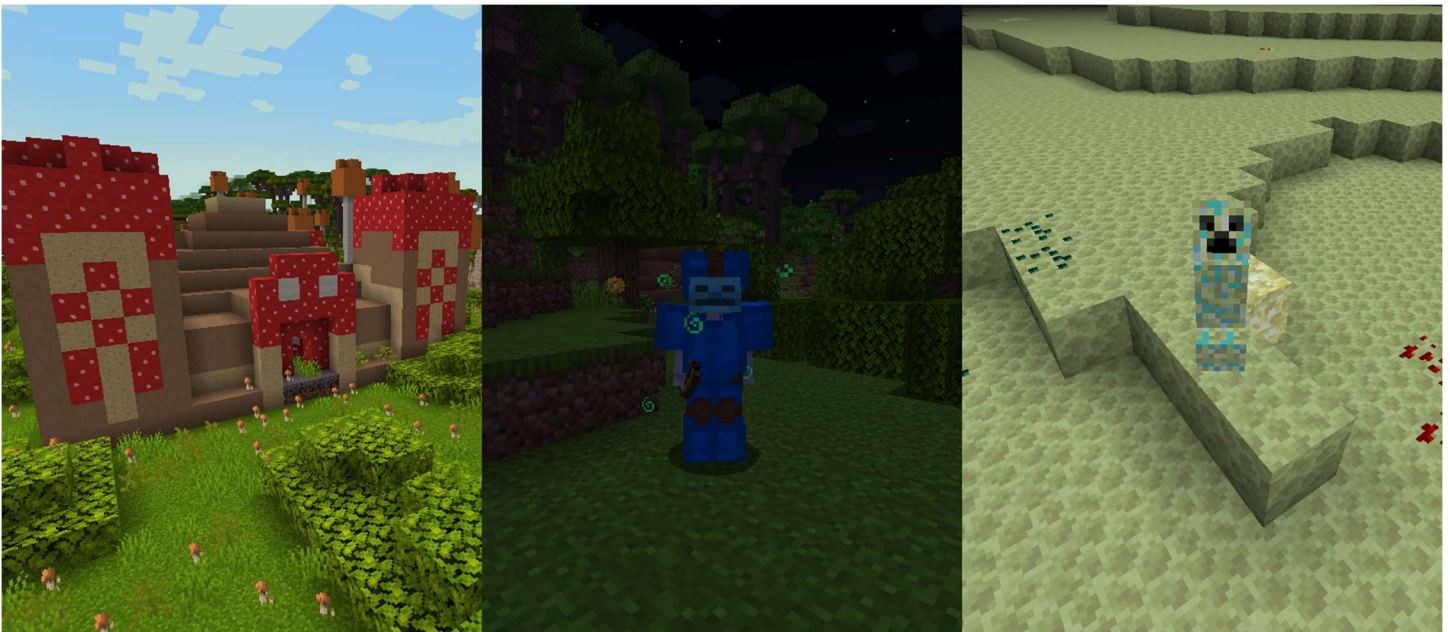

This June, Feed The Beast is proud to announce FTB Plexiglass Mountain (PGM) as a new freeplay kitchensink modpack with optional questing. It is built around the thought that progression and preferred mods from player to player may differ and so more options are made available to enrich the diversity of the gameplay.

Player progression is tracked inside a new FTB guidebook using the advancements system, you can access this directly in your player inventory!

Better loot all around, scaling mob difficulty, diversification of resource production methods, ample building blocks, and late-game creative item recipes are just a few of the highlights within this modpack.

Custom content is added to the game, and many mods are adjusted and customized, such as Resourceful Creepers, Mystical Agriculture, CobbleGenRandomizer, Immersive Engineering, Botania, RFTools and many more!

FTB Plexiglass Mountain is tailored to accommodate a multitude of different playstyles. Players can go on adventures, forage for food, rummage for resources, as well as create colourful constructions and automate factories.

With the thought that bigger multiplayer servers usually struggle with performance, we've added mods such as WYML and ItShallNotTick to greatly reducing server load, improve tick times and reduce AI spawning performance issues.

Since multiplayer is then made more accessible, multiplayer-enhancing mods as Hearthstones for their “Global Taverns” and Simple Shops were added for player travel and economy.

New mod additions such as Malum (magic), Cloud Storage (storage), LaserIO (logistics) and more are sure to entertain you alongside other favorites alike Thermal Series (automation), Ars Nouveau (magic), Soul Shards (spawners)!

Are you ready to try it yet? Perhaps will you challenge your friends to see who will build the prettiest building, or the most efficient and fast factory?

Or maybe if time is all that matters, you'll be against the clock to finish some quests. Once the light of the beacon shines, the stopwatch stops ticking!

No matter your playstyle, this is for you to discover and enjoy!

Welcome to PGM

Information about mods contained in this modpack that may affect video:

- Better Third Person adds independent rotation of the camera from a third person view.
- Borderless Window allows you to go borderless with F11 in-game.
- FPS Reducer reduces CPU & GPU usage when the game is minimized or idle. You will want to remove this if you usually tab out while playing, otherwise your FPS will drop during that time.
- Spyglass Improvements allows you to zoom in with the Z key when a spyglass is inside your inventory (anywhere). This may work well if you use a resource pack for the spyglass to remove the overlay it has.
